
Quality Services Delivered Cost-effectively

Public sector organizations face growing responsibilities while managing tight budgets and rising costs.

Crowe Horwath LLP helps public organizations improve their ability to provide quality service in a cost-effective manner. Many of our senior professionals are former government officials with practical experience creating solutions.

We understand the complexities of integrating stakeholders across agencies, and have a proven process for facilitating collaboration within and across levels of government. Crowe brings together an integrated team of process, financial advisory, information technology, and risk management experts. Our service areas include:

Debt issuance and management	Budgeting and forecasting
Financial management	Arbitrage rebate services
Revenue and fee analysis	Verification services
Utility consulting	Economic development

We integrate client resources into the process. Our collaborative approach integrates client staff at all levels, thereby influencing internal resources who remain in place long after project completion. The combination produces a team effort that keeps total project costs under control and creates results of strategic benefit.
